[Organization name] AI use policy

Draft for board review · Effective [date] · Owner: [name or role] · Next review: [date]

Why we have this policy. [One or two sentences: what the organization wants from AI and what it wants to protect. Use the hope and the worry from question 6.]

Who it covers. [Staff, volunteers, contractors and board members, and any exceptions.]

Tools we use

- [Tool name]: [what it's approved for, and whether it is approved for any protected information]
- [Add one line per approved tool. A personal or free account belongs here only if a leader has said staff may use it.]
- New tools, add-ons and AI features. [Who approves a new tool, a browser extension, a plugin, an AI agent or an AI feature switched on inside existing software, and what they check first.]
- Accounts. [Use a work account where we have one, and turn off any setting that lets the vendor train on what you type.]

What you can use AI for

- [Three to six everyday uses that are fine without asking, in this organization's own words.]

Needs approval first

- [Use] — [who approves]
- [Three to five uses that need a yes first.]

Off limits

- Information that never goes into an AI tool [unless that tool is approved for it above]: [named types of donor, client, student, patient, staff and volunteer information this organization holds.]
- [Two to four things nobody does with AI here, whatever the tool.]

Check everything before it goes out

- [Who reviews AI output, what they check for (facts, names, numbers, tone, bias), and that the person who sends it is responsible for it.]

Decisions about people

- [AI does not decide who gets services, money, a job, a place in a program, or a consequence. Say what it may do to support a person who decides.]

Being open about AI

- [When we tell donors, clients, funders or the public that AI was used, and how.]

If something goes wrong

- [Who to tell, how fast, and that reporting a mistake is expected and not punished.]

Who owns this policy

- [Owner, how staff learn the policy, how often it's reviewed, and who approves changes.]

Open questions for the board

- [Anything the call didn't settle. Never guess these.]
